Th Methodist Conference and Clark W. S. Meredith's Terrible Experience with County Appointments.

Yesterday afternoon's session of the Cincinuati conference was by all means the most interesting yet held. When the committee on temperance reported in favor of "constitutional prohibition, enforced by appropriate legislation," Dr. J. F. Marlay, of this city, offered an amendment that nothing in the report should be construed as committing the conference to the support of any political party, This was tabled by a division vote of 53 to 46. Then another resolution passed unanimously of them rushed down the cellar steps, while interpreting this last vote as not committing the conference to a political party. From the leaving Mr. Meredith alone in the center resolution of the committee on the state of the church the following extract is taken: "We deem it expedient to reaffirm our position of a non-partisan church. No attempt of politicians or others can commit us to any political party. Our preachers and people should enjoy without censure the right of falling timbers. It was all done so quickly voting according to their conviction of duty. The discipline of our church does not in any way attempt to control the votes of our ; ple. Our mission is to save men of all perties. The needs of the hour call for thoughtful consideration of each other's rights. The law of wisdom and charity should rule in our hearts and lives in order that all unholy tempers and bitter words may be avoided and so the peace of the Church preserved. In regard to the subject matter of these memorials we would respectfully request that while we can not indorse the participation in politics of any of our ministers by becoming can-Hight street church will be greeted by a large didates or public advocates of any party, yet in view of an honest difference of opinion as to the best methods of reaching the same delatest news from the cyclone at Washington strable end, and in view of the past tolerance of this church, we advise that no further action beyond this expression be taken." W. S. Meredith's Terrible Experience with the Cyclone.

W. S. Meredith, the well known commission merchant of this city, had a terrible experience with the cyclone at Washington. When it struck the ill-lated city he was in the whole ale grocery of Stimpson Broa, which was aimost demolished. Eight men were in the front part of the store. When they heard the crashing buildings below them they started back toward the office. They had made but a step when the walls of their own building began to sway and crack. Four of them rushed down the cellar steps, while there more sprang into a vault near the office leaving Mr. Meredith slope in the center leaving the subject to such spication and city by the owner or owners of such spication to contain a statement of the supposed structure, or by his or their agent.
